Who we are:

The Supportive Housing Network of New York represents over 200 nonprofit organizations that develop and operate supportive housing across the state. With offices in New York City and Albany, the Network is the largest supportive housing membership organization in the country. It is the voice of the provider community that has created by far the largest and most innovative supportive housing stock in the nation.

Established in 1988, the Network's membership continues to expand alongside the rapid growth of supportive housing. It now includes almost every supportive housing provider in the state, as well as over 160 affiliate and corporate partners. Thanks in part to the Network's efforts to promote the supportive housing model, there are now over 50,000 units of supportive housing in New York State.

JOIN US FOR THE 18TH ANNUAL NEW YORK STATE SUPPORTIVE HOUSING CONFERENCE

CONFERENCE AT A GLANCE

Join us for the 18th Annual New York State Supportive Housing Conference, the largest supportive housing conference in the nation. The conference will again be held at the New York Marriott Marquis, in the heart of New York City.

This year, we are delighted to announce that acclaimed author and National Book Award winner Jacqueline Woodson will give the morning keynote address. Additionally, in a two-part workshop series, eminent anti-racism educator Marc Dones will discuss the history of structural racism and homelessness and how to address it. As always, City and State commissioners will speak about homelessness and progress toward creating 35,000 supportive housing units over the next 15 years. The conference will also include multiple panels on strategies for housing development and finance and will feature nine panels on innovative programs and tools for direct service providers. And last but not least, the newly-appointed Health + Hospitals President Dr. Mitchell Katz will present on his work as Director of Los Angeles County Health Agency creating the county's innovative Housing for Health program.

The New York State Supportive Housing Conference is the single best place for supportive housing's leaders to learn what is going on in our world. We expect 1,500 guests this year and will hear from more than 100 experts, innovators and leaders in the field.

We look forward to seeing you on June 12!
